01 THE LEARNING CUBE

After the huge success of the evolution construction kit, we immediately started to develop the adventure, which should be a bit more compact, but with similar features. Thanks to the ingenious structure of the parts, we were able to incorporate all important design trends such as learning cube, play tower, baby slide, learning tower, ball pool and much more. This makes it an absolute highlight in the QUADRO range in this price class.

“Even before your 8-month-old child takes their first steps in an upright position, daily training sessions of different lessons are required. It starts with constantly getting up and sitting down again. Sometime later, the first very careful steps follow while your child holds onto something. The BEGINNER CONSTRUCTION KIT is the perfect toy to accompany these developments safely.”

The construction kit beginner is the perfect toy for early child development, as it is small and can be set up quickly wherever you are – whether in the bedroom, living room or play room.
